7th graders mapped 13 different neighborhoods in Stamford.

7th graders walked to the Stamford Museum and mapped their walk.

7th graders mapped major league baseball teams and found the distance traveled around the league.

7th graders researched a business in Stamford and found a place for a new one.

8th graders used US Census data to map demographic data in CT.

8th graders hiked the Appalachian Trail with GPSs, and then mapped their walk.

8th graders researched colleges in New England to which they would consider applying.